

Of course.. Remember when I was recruited?

It was the lowest point of my life.

But getting help from the Syndicate really opened my eyes to how miserable my life used to be..

When she took me to my new apartment provided by the Syndicate..

I couldn't help but think about how I used to be two paychecks away from homelessness.

And when you guys got me food and healthcare for free..

All I could think about was my sister.

All the DC hospital did was pump her full of drugs towards the end to drive up the bill.

They never cared about getting her better.

If only the Syndicate was around in my city back then..

Maybe she would've lived a lot longer than she did.

Cherie..

Don't feel bad.. I really have been feeling like this for a long time.

Something is wrong with our society, Crush.

It shouldn't be like this..

I know it's a big project..

And Dan city is very far away..

But.. I can't do this alone..

I really need you by my side

It's selfish of me to even ask..

But..

Will you come with me..?

OF COURSE! I'D LOVE TO!

HUH???

YOU'RE AGREEING JUST LIKE THAT ?!

Well.. It's not like I have any reasons to say no..?

You have tons! What about your job?? Your apartment??

Yeah... So.. Sector 4 is the Tech department, you see..

Turns out computer geeks and engineers are VERY scared of me.. considering my reputation.

They didn't even bother training me.

So most of the time I just.. lift the heavy machinery and play Floppy Bird..

WHAT?!

Plus.. We basically live together already.

I sleep over like 5 days a week, most of my stuff is at your place!

I even have a toothbrush here!

That's true.. Your apartment barely has anything in it..

Right? It's a total waste on me,

I'm just gonna give it back to the Syndicate so someone else can enjoy it!

I want to do this, Cherie.

You're not being selfish.

I'm not..?

Of course not, Why would you ever think I wouldn't come with you..?

Because.. the Syndicate is your home?

What..? That's not true..!

My home is wherever you are..!

My home

is you, Cherie!
