

Cool Kid Cody's Totally Unreal Radical Quest for God-hood

Cody's in class and things are weird.

He asks what's going on around class but gets distracted by guitars.

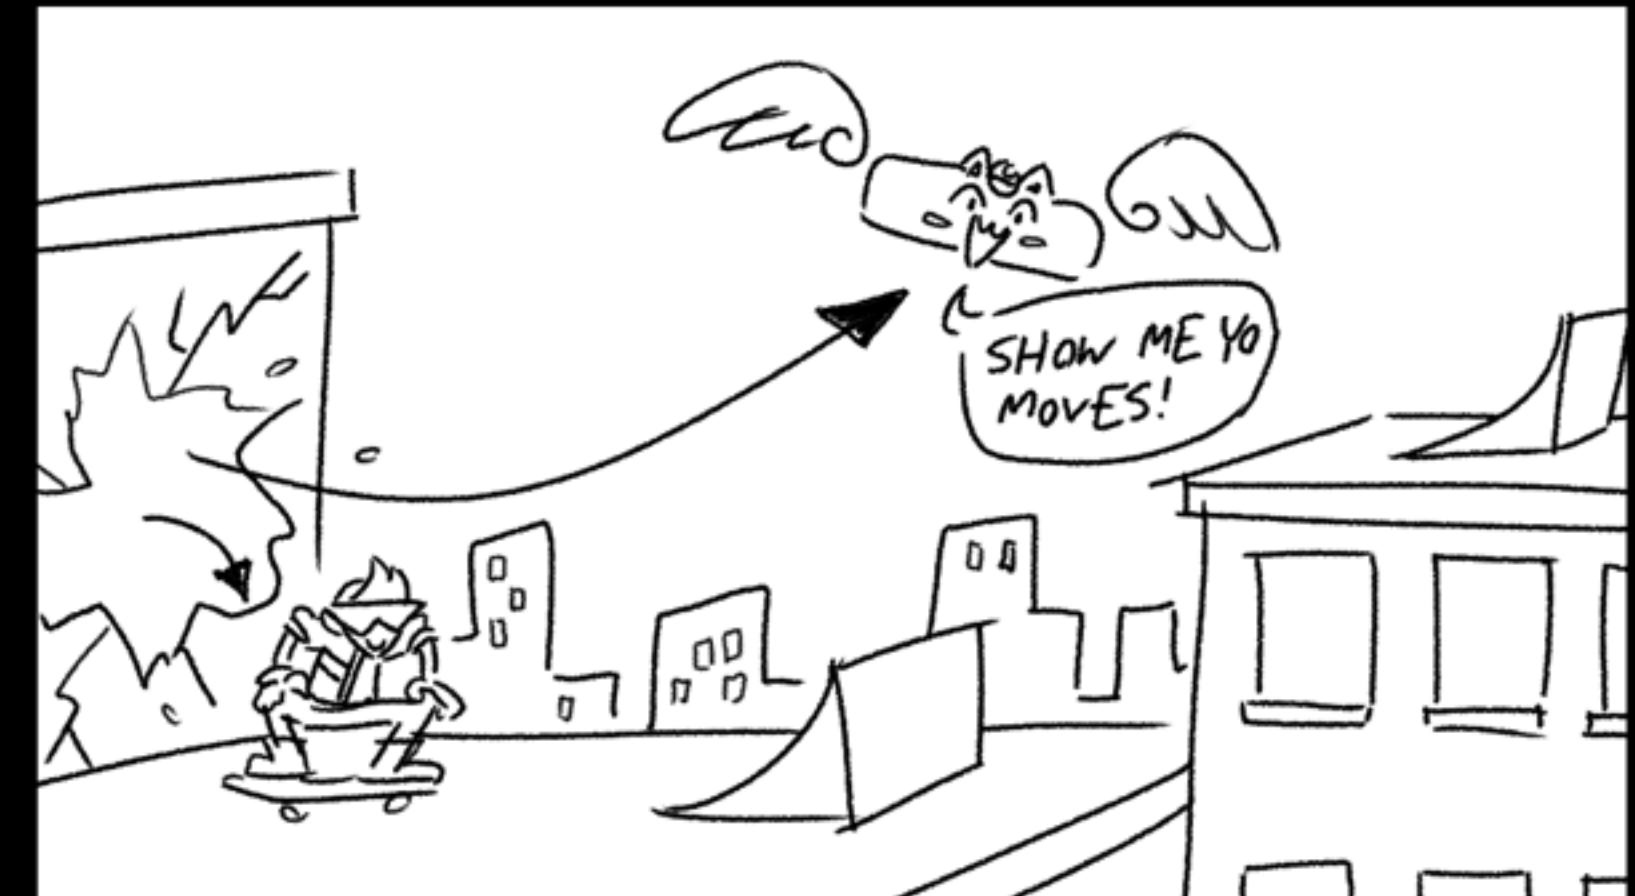

He's super cool because he plays guitar.

His sick tunes summon the high school's God the Greatboard.

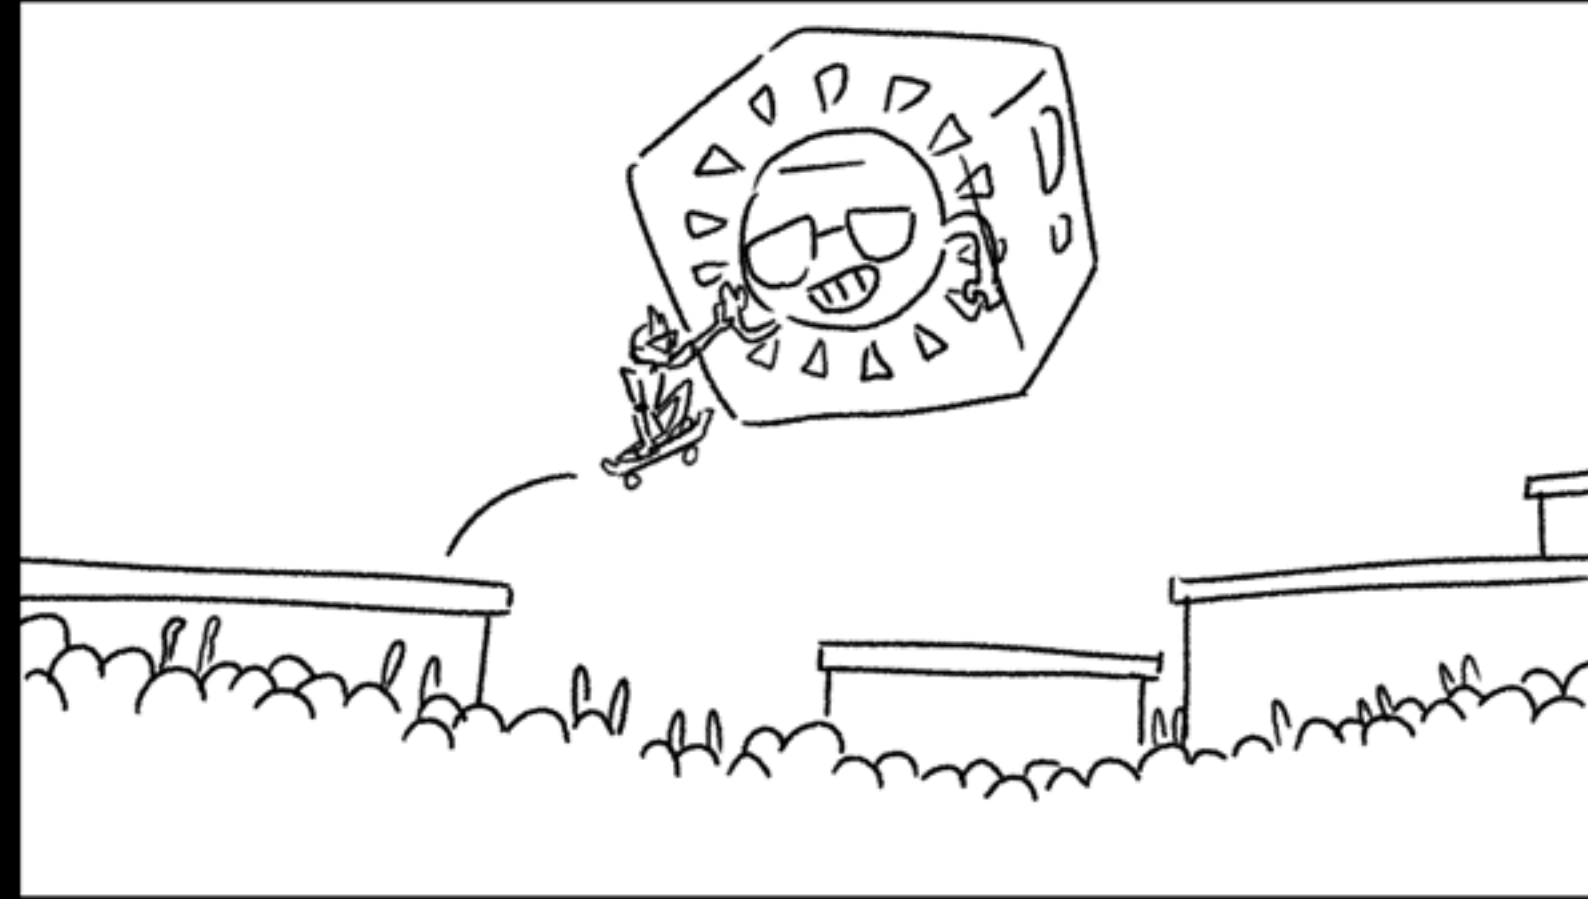

He begins his test to become a God.

He skates on the rooftops of Hella City to prove he's sick.

His sweet moves attract rabid losers who want to wear his skin.

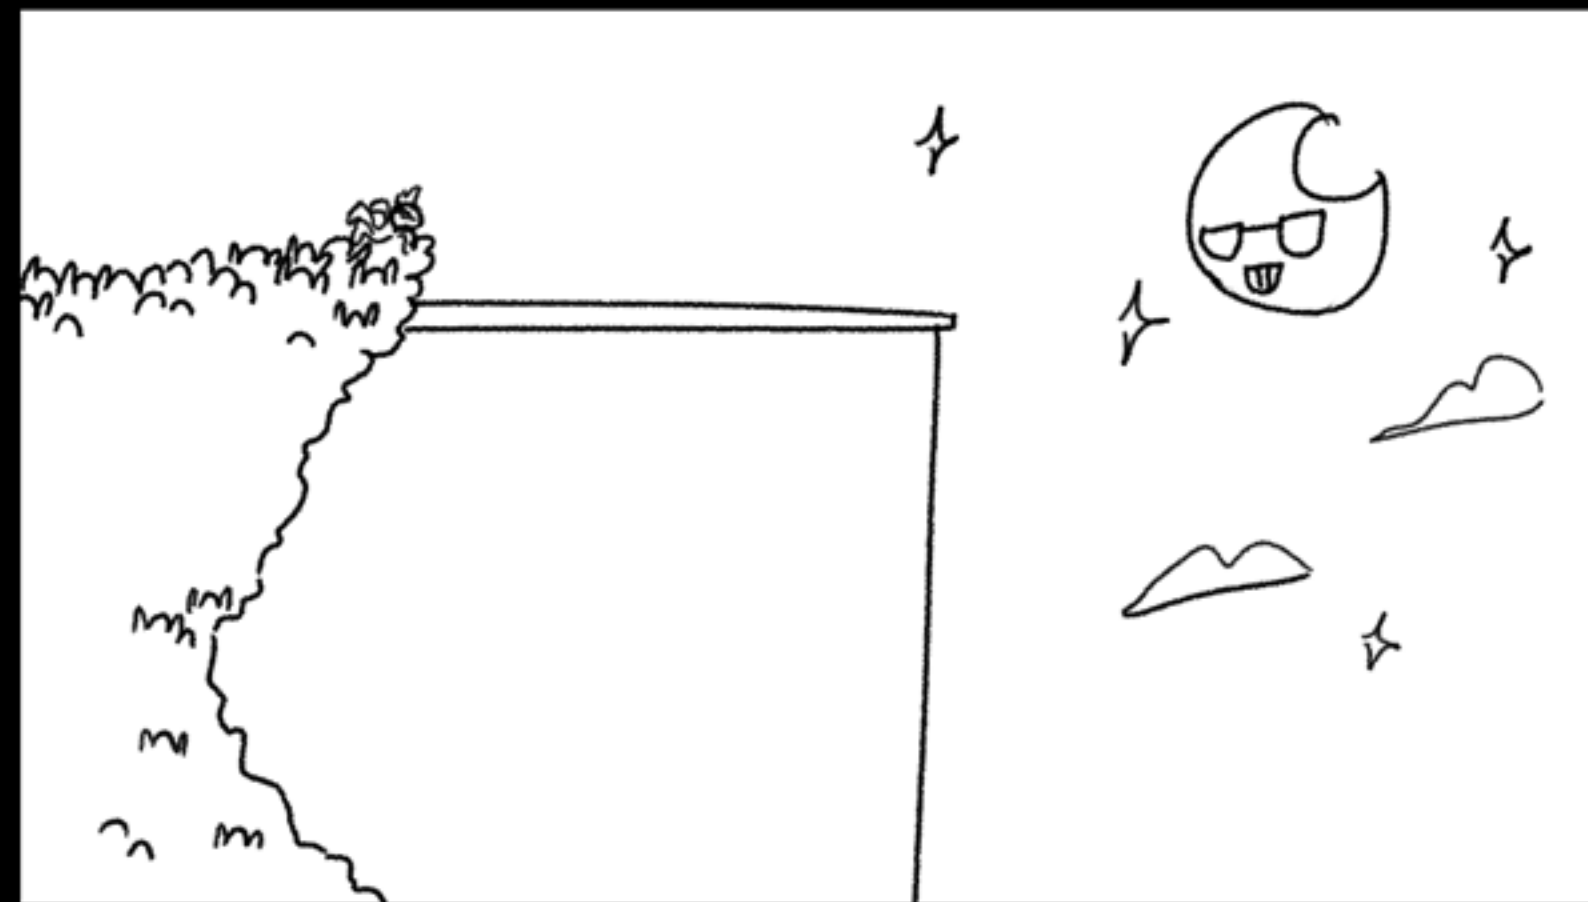

He ollies up to the sun and high fives it, chilling it with his coolness.

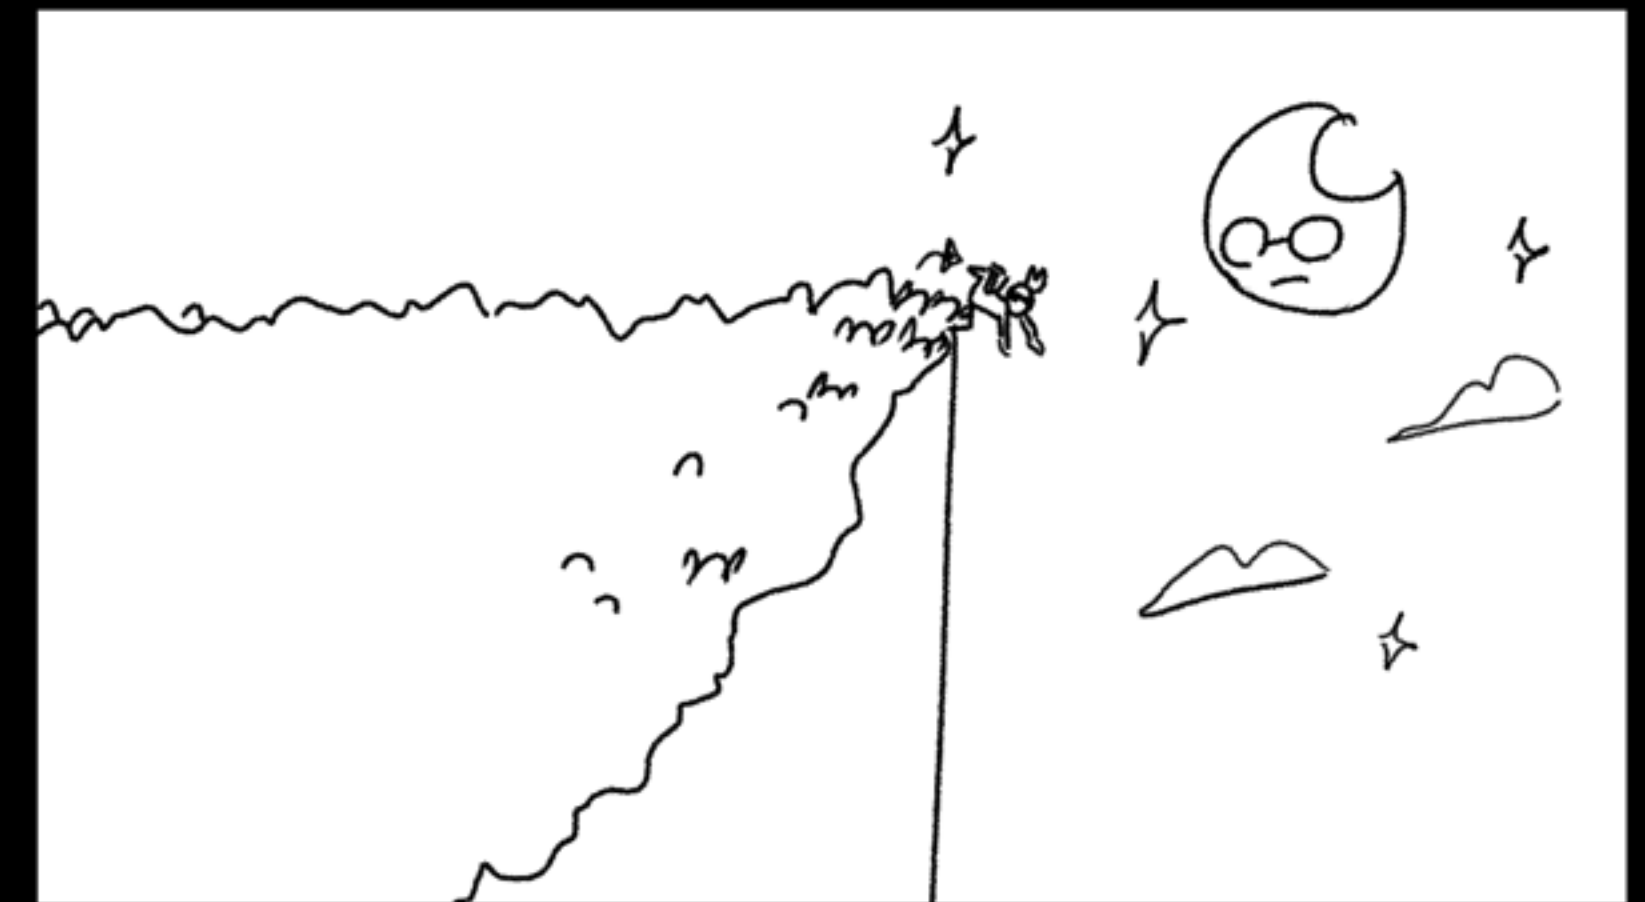

It becomes night and the losers go home because they have a curfew. Cool kids come out to appreciate Hella City's nightlife.

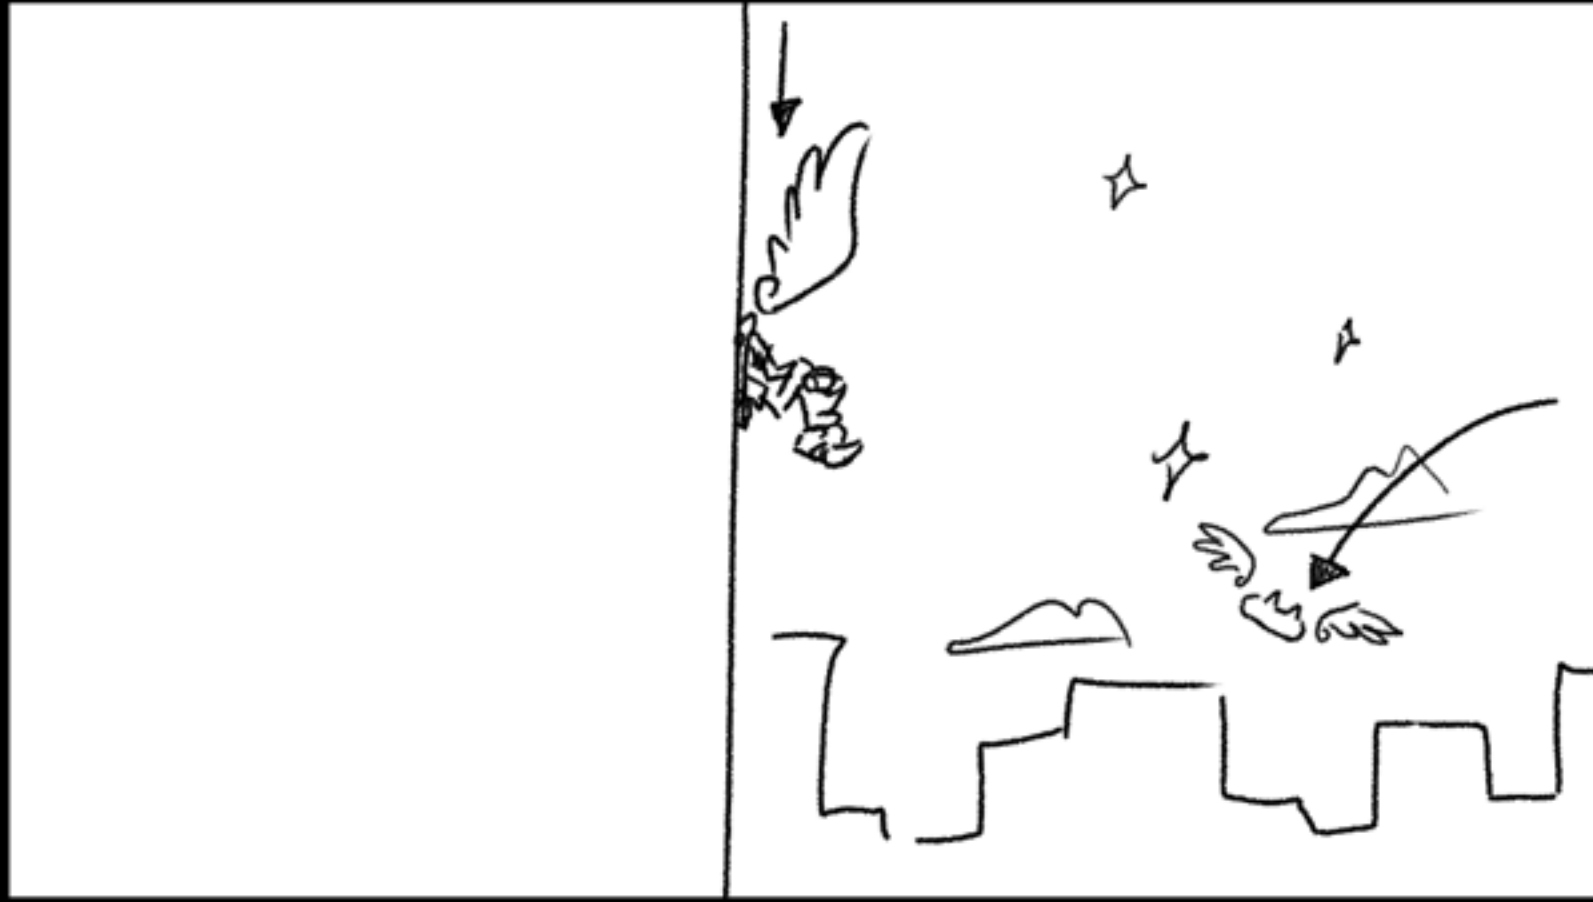

Cody says something cool to impress the cool kids.

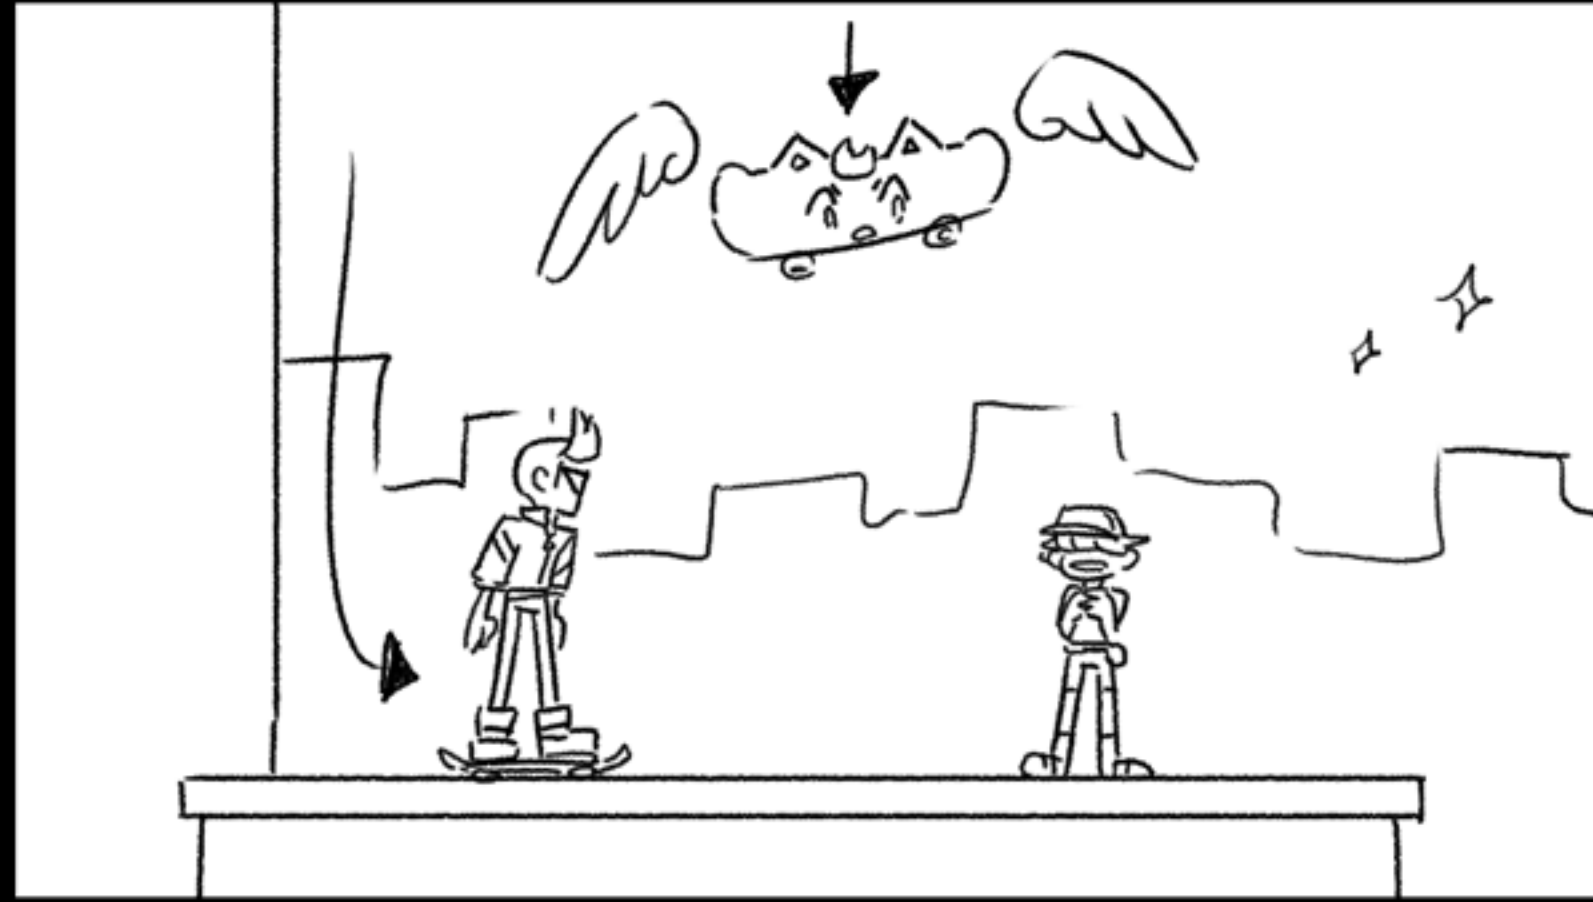

The cool kids love it and Cody body surfs...

Right off the roof.

He commits some rad skateboarding shenanigans to survive the fall.

He lands safely on a building where a loser stands.

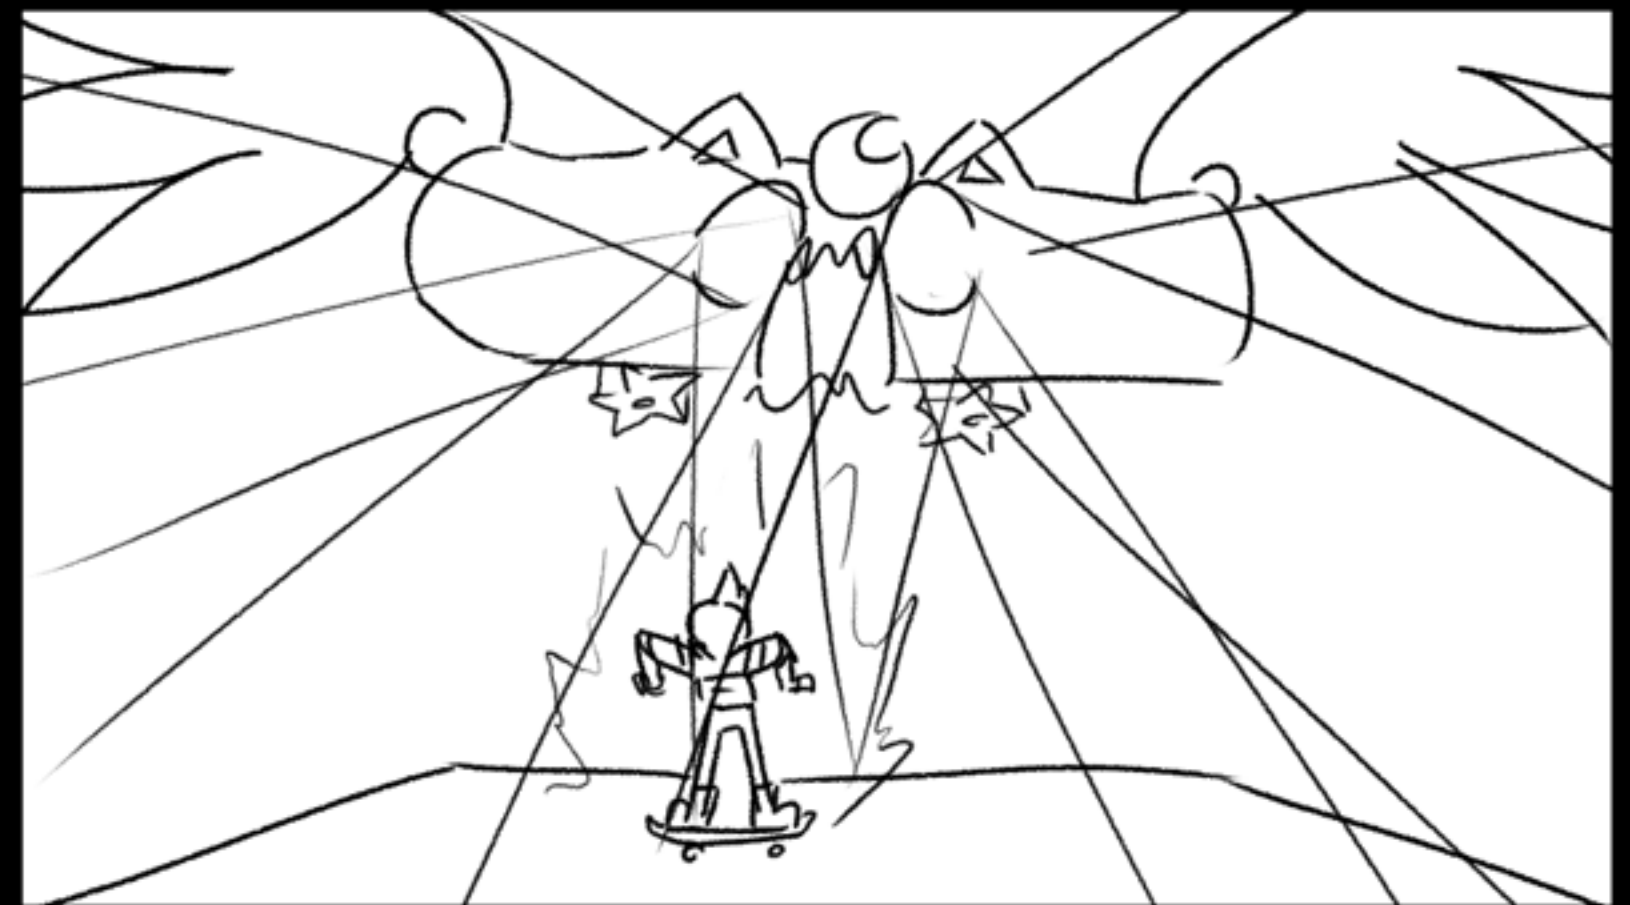

The loser is really fucking lame, the Greatboard is unhappy.

KILL HIM.

Option 1: Cody refuses.

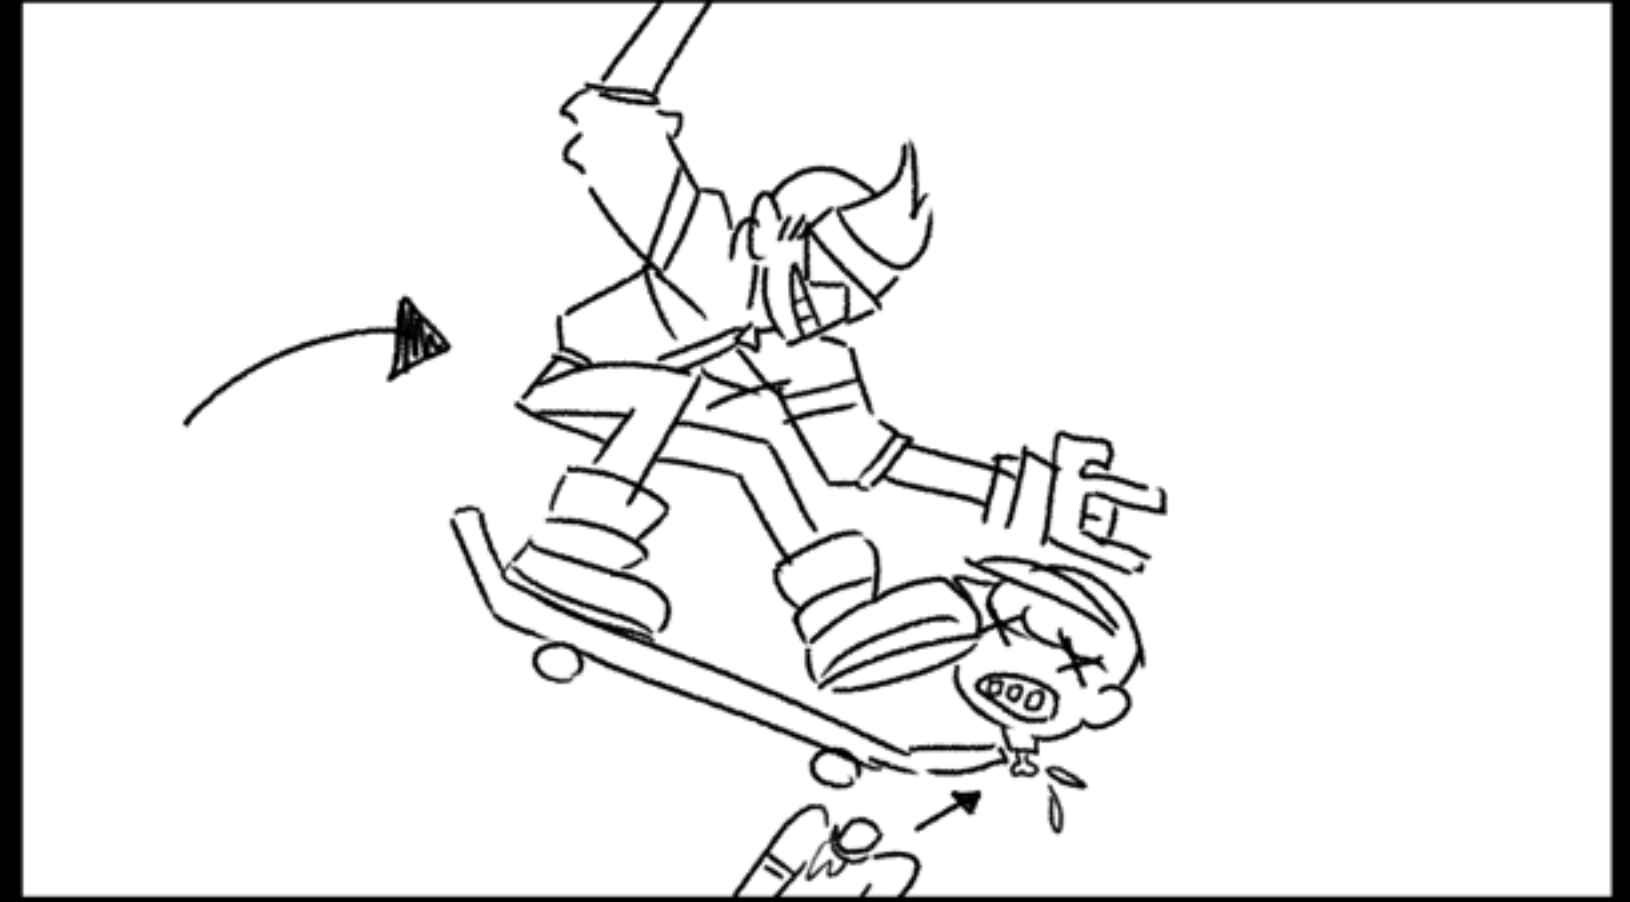

The dream becomes a nightmare, lasers are everywhere!

Cody wakes up in a cold sweat.

Option 2: Cody accepts.

He kickflips this loser's head off.

Cody wins! The Greatboard is about to give Cody his God wings!

Cody wakes up in a cold sweat.

THE END
I GUESS.