

Chapter 177 - Breaking into the Ishtar Familia home.

I approached the main gate of the Ishtar Familia house. There were two women in front of the entrance. Looking at them, I could tell they weren't weak. However, they were no match for me.

"Excuse me, is the goddess Ishtar at home?" I smiled at the women. I could see that the two women liked my smile. They were instantly interested in me.

They would do anything to have sex with a handsome man. However, I wasn't here for that. I would deal with them if they tried to do something to me.

However, to my surprise, they didn't advance on me or try to say anything to convince me to sleep with them. They just answered my question sincerely.

"The goddess Ishtar is inside but will not accept visits." The woman on the right said. She was an amazess wearing a provocative outfit, as was the girl on the left.

They were both beautiful women.

"Please tell her that Luan from the Hestia Familia is here. She certainly knows me."

"Hestia Familia?" The woman on the left's eyes widened. "You, I remember you. You're the boy who won the War Game almost single-handedly."

"Don't exaggerate. Can you let her know I'm here?"

"I'm sorry, but that's impossible." The woman on the right said. She didn't even let the woman on the left answer me.

"All right. What's your name?" They were characters I didn't remember, probably extras, despite the beauty of the two women.

"My name is Luzie. And hers is Samire." The girl on the right, called Luzie, said. Samire... I remember a girl with a similar name, but it wasn't this girl. She looks very different.

"All right. But I want to meet the Goddess Ishtar."

"Why are you insisting on this so much?" Luzie asked.

"Honestly, I want to help your goddess."

"Help?!" Luzie asked in surprise. "What do you mean you want to help her? The Goddess doesn't need help!"

"Freya."

"What?!" They both shouted at the same time.

"I can help you deal with Freya. You must know that the two don't get on very well. Freya is powerful; she could probably destroy your Familia. I want to help with that." I told them.

I was saying that to convince them. However, the fact is that I was very interested in the Goddess Ishtar, and I didn't want her to die. I want her to stay alive.

Preferably by my side.

'But it won't be easy. These girls don't trust me at all. They're becoming hostile.' I felt the stares from the two women. They were unwilling to let me in and had become irritated.

"What do you know about our Familia? The Goddess is not so weak as to need the help of a human like you!"

"Yes, that's right! Our Familia is strong enough to handle it!"

"Haaa~~ I'm just trying to help. I'm telling you the truth. Freya will destroy you." I wasn't lying. Even if the order in which things happen has changed, I'm sure it will happen.

"Stop talking nonsense!" Luzie shouted. She was getting ready to attack.

Samire wasn't as angry as Luzie, but she was also getting ready to attack me. They looked at each other, but I wouldn't let them do anything against me.

I quickly approached Luzie. It was as if I had teleported. The two couldn't react.

I hit Luzie in the neck and made her faint.

"SHIT!" Samire screamed, but I grabbed her by the arm and threw her to the ground before she could do anything. I hit her neck just as I did Luzie to make her pass out.

I could see that a few people had witnessed everything, but no one dared to get in my way.

"All right, shall we go in?"

####

I entered the Ishtar Familia's house, and it was tranquil. I didn't meet anyone until I reached the front door. I knocked on the door a few times, and no one answered.

"Could it be that there's no one there? Is that why they didn't let me in? Has something happened to Ishtar?"

Something could be going on. Freya might have done something to her.

So, I lost patience and opened the door using my strength. It wasn't difficult to break down the door and get inside. However, as I did so, I caught the eye of someone standing near the door. "Shit!" I was attacked immediately.

I felt a kick in my stomach. Out of instinct, I moved away.

"You are..." It was her, the character I was talking about. Samira is one of the principal members of the Ishtar Familia—a skilled hand-to-hand fighter.

"Who are you?! What are you doing here?" She was on guard. She was ready to attack me. However, I explained everything to her. I told her the same things I said to the girls at the gate.

"Are you crazy?" was her reply. She was angry. She was going to attack me.

As I imagined, she did.

I didn't even move. I let her attack me with all her might. I stopped her attacks calmly. It was as if I was playing with a child. I didn't move, which made her very angry.

Many minutes passed, and she began to get tired.

"I said I can help, didn't I? Let me talk to the Goddess Ishtar."

"You won't meet her!" Samira shouted and attacked me again.

"Haaa~~ I didn't want to have to knock you down too." However, I got tired. With a single movement, I completely immobilized her. Samira began to struggle as I held her from behind.

"YOU SON OF A BITCH, LET ME GO!" She said like a barbaric man.

"I'll only let you go when you calm down." I smiled.

"AAAAAAAAHHH!"
